Beecher Serenaded.

NEW YORK, July 13.—The people and temporary residents of Peekskill and neighborhood preceded by a band of music and a company of militia marched to Beecher Hill, last evening and serenaded Mr Beecher After a speech by Judge Kellogg expressing confidence in him as a Christian minister of the gospel Beecher spoke nearly an hour Among other things he said that when I began my life I had no intention of ever being a great and eloquent and wise man but I desired to be a good man and honest and I did not care to spend all the strength God gave me in any fellow man better These I have done by the help of God and I make this assertion more confidently because in few papers seem to think I have done it in spite of them I don t think they should care for my future My future is in the hands of the Lord God to whom my life was directed me I should like to know who is to stop my mouth with a muzzle About 3 50 o clock in the morning of my 70th year I had to go to the spring water at times but I kept it to myself The revelation of it to mankind came in a year, but I had got through it am receiving hundreds of letters couched in the kindest and affectionate condolence for the

Ex-Governor Grant on Indian Affairs.

NEW YORK, July 13.—The Tribune to-morrow publishes the following letter from Professor Marsh of Yale, to President Grant

"DEAR SIR—In the interviews I had with you on the Indian question I was impressed with your correctness of judgment in regard to the Indians and with your truly philanthropic views on the whole subject Since then I have had no opportunity of meeting you except in a casual manner coming again to you to say how much I appreciate your efforts in behalf of the wrongs of the Sioux Indians mainly through observation during my recent visit to the country My visit to this region was solely in the interest of science and I have no information or wish to obtain Indian affairs Friends I observed with my knowledge by Red Cloud who requested to consult his complaints to you in person I have since had interview with you on this subject and been informed by the commissioner of Indian affairs of the appointment of a committee to investigate the affairs when they could have an opportunity to make statements of fact before the committee I must decline to give my opinions on the interior department alone for the present reasons

"I have every confidence whatever in the sincerity of the interior or commis sioner of Indian affairs when they publicly announce their wish and determination to correct the evils in Indian management because I have reason know they have long been aware of these abuses and have made no sincere effort to remedy them

Second—In all my intercourse with these two chiefs their object was manifestly been to find out how much what the frauds actually were as the extent of my information concerning them so as to prevent by every means in their power all publicity of exposure of them

Third—The evidence now in my possession reflects unfavorably upon both secretary Delano and Commissioner Smith

For these reasons I have thought it best to lay before you to whom in accordance with my previous letter to Red Cloud I made the first communication the accompanying statement in full In full could hence that the evidence presented will meet with the consideration its importance demands In the statement which accompanies this letter I have given the results of my investigation into the affairs of Red Cloud agency the largest and most important in the West These results clearly indicate both intentional ignorance and fraud especially in the following particulars

First—The agent J J Saville is wholly unfitted for the position and gets of gross frauds upon Indians in his charge the number of Indians and Indian agencies been systematically overstated for purposes which can only result in fraud

Second—The last issue of annuity goods which I witnessed was suspicious the transaction in part at least fraudulent

Third—The beef cattle given to the Indians have been very inferior and owing to systematic fraud in practiced by the agent and beef contractors

Fourth—The pork issued to the Indians during 1874 it was not suitable for human food

Fifth—The flour was very inferior and evidence of fraud in this article conclusive

Sixth—The sugar and coffee is said were not good although better than other supplies

Seventh—The tobacco I observed was rotten and of little or no value to the Indians

Eighth—In consequence of fraud and mismanage ment the Indians suffered greatly the past winter for want of food and clothing

Ninth—The contract for the gift from Cheyenne to Red Cloud agency was fraudulent as the true distance is 90 miles while the contractor was paid for 21 miles

I would especially call attention to the evidence of fraud in beef cattle as presented in the accom panying statement This subject I have treated with great care as beef is the principal article of food of the Sioux Indians and the frauds I observed had caused great suffering to them as well as great pecuniary loss to the Government The state ment I have prepared to support in all its essential parts by the testimony of officers of army who were with me on the expedition to Red Cloud agency Among these officers are several personally known to you and all gentlemen of high character should any part of my statement be seriously questioned I trust you will allow these gentlemen to be heard If commanding officers at all posts near agencies or other trustworthy and disinterested observers were called to testify I think it would be found I have not exaggerated the corruption prevailing Indian affairs I have purposely confined myself in this state ment to a simple recital of facts leaving the time of my visit, without referring to much other testimony which has come to me incidentally in the prosecution of my inquiries, showing frauds of a most outrageous character The corrupt and constant source of discontent and hostility among the Indians themselves, is in my judgment the natural result of the present loose and irresponsible system of handling Government goods and supplies system that lies directly to invite fraud I don t believe anything but a radical change in this respect will prevent continuous demoralization of the Indian service You alone have the will and power to destroy that combination of bad men known as the Indian ring who are debasing this service and thwarting the efforts of all who endeavor to bring to a full consummation your noble policy of peace

Very respectfully your ob t serv t

Meeting of the Cabinet.

WASHINGTON July 13.—A consultation of cabinet officers in the secretary of state s room was attended by the secretary of state secretary of the navy attorney general postmaster general secretary of the treasury secretary of the interior

Extraordinary Cabinet Council on our National Complications.

WASHINGTON, D C July 13.—An extraordinary council of cabinet members having been called by Secretary Fish it met to day in the department of state continuing the session about three hours All present except Secretary Belknap who is in the West The subject of our relations with Venezuela was said to be the council by Secretary Fish who read the last communication from minister Lester to that country and stated the general facts of the case It may be recollected that in December 1873 the President announced that the government of Venezuela had made satisfactory arrangements for the payment of the awards under the convention of 1866 and expressed the hope that it would lose no time in providing for the unpaid balance of debt to the United States Venezuela admitted the injuries to our citizens by the Venezuelan authorities and having been acknowledged pursuant to treaty in the most solemn form among nations would the President submit to Congress at the presence over debts of different origin and contracted in a different manner and recommends this subject to the attention of Congress for such action as might be deemed proper Secretary Fish stated the recommendation changes in a joint resolution expressed its sense in regard to the awards of the joint commission under the convention and the Venezuelan government was informed that a copy of the resolutions which excluded all doubt of the earnestness of our government in its demand for payment of the amount due by them There was no authority respecting the revolution of Venezuela In 1870 the President in his annual message said to congress it is apprehended that the government does not realize the character of its obligation under the convention and he was led to believe he could by its hesitancy in recognizing them spring in part at least from the real difficulty in discharging them in connection with its obligations to the Venezuelan commissioner and chargé of further forbearance on our part is believed to be worthy of your consideration Since then our minister at Venezuela has been repeatedly instructed to urge the payment of deferred install ments until at least the Venezuelan government has expressed a disposition to do so but claims the privilege of designating the particular parties to whom money shall be paid This our government will not consent to This proposition apart from this consideration being contrary to the terms of the convention The Venezuelan government will be informed of the rejection of this proposition and unless the money shall be paid as the stipulation requires our minister will probably be withdrawn

There is a difference of opinion about the wheat prospects Some say the heated term just past and the unequal weather during the past spring will prove a disadvantage to the wheat crop Mr Samuel Lamp of Brooks a good judge informs the Record he never saw a better prospect on his own land where wheat was well put in and sown in season In case that the growth was not sufficient to shelter the soil and retain the moisture the late hot weather will prove an injury but not where the growth shades the ground He has lately made a wagon trip to Columbia in Goose county

DOLLYMOUNT

TATISTICS OF THE MATCH

The Irish Team first on their honors in their contest for the Telbo Shield their percentage having been eighty four In the Irish and American match held at Creedmoor last October the respective averages of America and Ireland were 86⅞ and 86 1 5 In the contest at Dollymount held yesterday a wonder ful improvement is manifest on the part of the American team Out of a possible 1,080 points were scored by our men What is meant by a possible 1 080 may be explained as follows Each man of the team shot fif teen times at three different ranges—800 900 and 1 000 yards As six men shot forty five times each the total shots were 270 for each team If every shot fired had struck the bull s eye 4 points would have been credited to the marksman and a total of 1 080 would have been reached The actual points made by the American team were 967—that is, 113 points less How very little this is may be understood by stating that if only 1 oilers counting 2 each and 27 centers counting 3 each had been made in the whole shooting this influence of 113 would have been accounted for which is not a single shot had missed the target If the accounts of the individual scores so far received are reliable the American team were very rarely off the target As it is the average made by the victorious team is within a fraction of 89½ per cent which is certainly the highest team score ever recorded Last year the total score of the Irish was 931 being two more than this year which was 929 Their percentage is a trifle over 86

SKETCHES OF THE RIFLEMEN—THEIR METHODS IN SHOOTING—THEIR RECORDS AS MARKSMEN

Several members of the Irish Team yesterday were contestants in the international match last year Messrs James Wilson, Ed mund Johnston Dr B Hamilton and J Mc Millen Mr Wilson is a prominent merchant of Belfast He is of medium stature, of dark swarthy complexion, with black hair and side whiskers and is twenty seven years of age In shooting he occupies the military position—lying face downward and though slightly built holds his gun very steady He was second in the list of scores in the international match of 18 1 and recently made, in a practice match at the new Wimbledon target 93 out of a possible 225

Mr Johnson is a slight built although muscular man with sandy hair and light mustache and in shooting lies on his back and rests the muzzle of his gun over his left thigh He was in ill health during the greater part of his visit to his city last year, but rallied sufficiently to enable him to compete with his team His score was fifth in the list He is 43 years of age a jeweler by occupation and resides in Belfast

Mr Milner is a wool merchant in Dublin
He is 25 years of age about six feet in height, of hithe figure, and Burnside whiskers In shooting he lies on his back with the butt of his rifle resting in the hollow of his shoulder with the barrel resting on his left foot The rear sight of his rifle is placed near the butt In the match last year he scored 11 consecutive bull s-eyes at 800 yards distance, but by wearing a pull eye on the wrong target he cured the defect of the aim

Dr J E Hamilton, of Dublin is a surgeon in the British army, stationed in India, on leave of absence. He is 47 years of age of medium height slender build, with light hair and mustache and ruddy complexion He won the championship as a marksman, in India in 1870 and recorded the third best score in the first international match He occupies the true military position similar to that adopted by Mr Wilson, and is considered a reliable shot

Mr John McKenna is a wealthy merchant of Belfast Lack of time has prevented him from competing in any important matches although he is a marksman of long standing During the practice for places on the Irish team he on one occasion recorded a score of 208 out of a possible 225 at a Wimbledon circular target

Mr Pollock, the final man on the team this year has no previous public record That he is an expert marksman will be seen by his score in which he takes first rank at 800 yards

Col Henry A Gildersleeve is thirty five years of age and a native of Dutchess county N Y He is a lawyer by occupation and a prominent member of the National Guard holding the position of assistant adjutant general on the staff of Major Gen Shaler, First Division He served with distinction in the one hundred and fiftieth New York volunteers during the war of the rebellion On his return from the war he accepted the lieutenant colonelcy of the twelfth regiment N G S N Y, and was subsequently promoted to his present position He first commenced long range marksmanship in the spring of 1874 He shoots in the military position face downward, and was fourth in the list of scorers in the international match last fall He is tall, well built shoulders, black hair and mustache and muscularly clear, black eyes

Col John Bodin is about forty years of age, and was born in Highland, Ulster county N Y where he still resides He is tall well-built man with iron gray hair and side whiskers and of a cool intrepid disposition He also shoots in the military position He has been accustomed to the use of the rifle from boyhood, and commenced practicing at long range in 1873 He is engaged in the commission business in this city, and owns an interest in a line of barges navigating the Hudson river Owing to his near sightedness he is ob iged to wear glasses while shooting He stood second on the American team last year in the international match His collection of sporting rifles would do credit to a museum

Major Henry Lutton was born in Rochester Monroe county N Y and is thirty years old He is about the average height, is slender in build with dark hair and whiskers Notwithstanding his youth he entered the Twenty first Regiment New York Volunteers at the breaking out of the war and remained in the service until its close After leaving the army he commenced the practice of his profession as civil engineer in the city of Brooklyn Early last year he was elected second lieutenant of Company L Twelfth Regiment and remained in that position until last April when he was appointed inspector of rifle practice of the First Brigade, with the rank of captain by Gen Ward and by legislative enactment the rank of that office was subsequently increased to Major He has always been accustomed to the use of the rifle but until the opening of the range at Creedmoor had never practiced under such favorable circumstances In the fall of 1873 he commenced shooting at long range and soon rose to the foremost rank as a marksman His score in the international match last year has never been beaten or even equaled In position in firing is lying on his back with his legs crossed Then turning to the right he places the butt of his gun over his right shoulder, and grasps the heel with his left hand The barrel rests in the V formed by crossing his legs

Major Gen Thomas S Dakin was born in Orange county New York in the year 1831 and is in his forty fourth year He is tall and is a quarter built and distinguished in appearance with iron gray hair and wears a mustache and imperial He has been connected with the militia of that State for twenty six years and has filled every grade in the service from private to his present office of commander of the Second Division Like most members of the team he had very little experience in rifle shooting until the opening of the range at Creedmoor since which time he has evinced a lively interest in rifle practice He is very methodical in his practice carefully weighing the ball and the powder of his cartridges before using them In the last international contest he occupied the military position but has since adopted a position similar to that of Major Fulton He has materially improved in his marksmanship since last year

Mr George W Yale is a native of New Haven County and is about 40 years of age He may be said to have been born and bred a rifleman for when he was quite young he learned the trade of a gunsmith, and has followed that occupation ever since He commenced shooting systematically at long range shortly after the opening of the range at Creed-moor and has frequently recorded excellent scores in matches and in private practice When firing he lies on his right side and rests the barrel of his gun over his left thigh He is of the medium hight and stoops somewhat when walking has black hair, and wears side whiskers and mustache

Mr Roswell C Coleman was born in Gosh en N Y in the year 1840 and still resides in that village He is a lawyer by profession and before the present year never had any experience in rifle practice After the great international contest last year Mr Coleman turned his attention to rifle shooting but as he says never expected to become famous as an expert shot He organized a rifle club in his village and was elected president When he received the circular issued by the joint committee of the American Rifle Club and National Rifle Association, he conceived the idea of taking part in the contest He was successful beyond his utmost expectations as the result has proved He is tall but slightly round-shouldered has light hair and a bushy sandy beard He adopted the Fulton mu style of shooting and has found it to be the most agreeable to him

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JULY 14, 1875.

THAT ASSESSMENT.

A few days ago it was stated in a telegrapic dispatch that the Republican National Committee have levied an assessment of one per cent. on the salaries of all the Federal officers, for the purposes of the fall elections. The assessment appears to extend to those in government employ whose compensation comes in the form of fees for services, as well as to those who receive regular salaries. At least the demand has been presented to such here, as we are informed by one of that class.

There are some questions suggested by this disclosure, which an intelligent public may wish to have answered.

What has the Republican National Committee to do with any election that is to come off this fall? This is not a year when a President is to be elected, and for State elections, the State and local organizations are amply able to do all the work that such bodies have any moral legal right to do in and about elections. It looks as if the National organization had made up its mind to come down and take a hand in all the petty local squabbles, in order to secure the patronage of the State governments for party purposes hereafter. Then how much money does the National Republican Committee propose to expend on the contest? In order to arrive at any approximately correct notion on this point it would be necessary to know something of the amount on which this one per cent. is levied. One per cent. on a million dollars is $10,000. How many millions are to be taxed? A great many. We cannot state amounts definitely, but any one who reflects on the subject for a moment will be astonished to see how the amount within his own knowledge swells beyond any conception he has had of its magnitude. The amount of this levy by the National Committee will be found to exceed $250,000. What does the National Committee propose to do with this amount of money? The object of the collection, as stated by the committee, is to help carry the fall elections. But can the National Committee expend in a legitimate way, on these local elections, $250,000? Could they legitimately expend one-tenth of that amount? Not by any means. This is a corruption fund; that is all there is of the matter. The practice of assessing offices to any amount whatever, for election purposes, is utterly unjustifiable. There is no possible view of it that does not show it to merit unqualified condemnation, because it is neither more nor less than using the patronage of the government for party purposes. But when the amount proposed to be raised exceeds what can possibly be used in any legitimate way, the case is aggravated. It is the addition of direct corruption to that general debasing of public morals which must result from any prostitution of the government to party purposes. Let people, who are inclined to believe the Republican party managers are unjustly criticised, think of the facts in this assessment case, and reflect whether there is not sufficient ground for criticism.

A BROOKLYN CASE.

Perhaps it ought not to be expected that a city lying so near New York as to be in reality only a part of the Empire City would depart altogether from the precedents established by the latter in the matter of official conscience. At any rate Brooklyn has a disciple of Tweed and Connolly, who has made good proficiency as a beginner in the art of manipulating the city funds. His name is Isaac Badeau, and his office that of tax-collector. A civil suit was recently instituted by the city against him for the recovery of $104,000, alleged to have been wrongfully withheld by him from the city, and the referee to whom the case was referred has just filed his findings of fact, from which it appears that the neat little sum of $65,445 74 has been proved against Mr. Badeau. It also appears that Mr. Badeau has a way of turning an honest penny which is quite simple and altogether safe. He deposits his city funds in bank, where they draw interest. He orders the principal to be placed to the credit of the city, but the interest to his own credit, thus he is enabled to pay over the city's money as required, but makes a profit to himself of the amount of the interest on the whole amount. He insists that this is a perfectly legitimate transaction, and that, so long as the city does not suffer any loss of principal, it is but right that he should have the use of the fund to make interest upon. It may seem strange, but it is nevertheless true, that the people of Brooklyn complain of this as a violation of his trust, and the newspapers are actually encouraging that unreasonable complaint.

ANOTHER BLACK HILLS REPORT.

The New York Tribune has a special correspondent with the Jenney expedition to the Black Hills, who gives much more encouraging stories of the gold prospect in that region than any of the others we have noticed. In a letter from Camp Jenney, under date June 20, after giving very full and particular details of the movements of the expedition, and a complete description of the country known as the Black Hills, he proceeds to detail the facts and circumstances of the working of the new mines. The Jenney explorers found over a hundred miners hard at work. "A part, it is said, belonged to Russell's party and remained behind, or rather planted themselves on the Hills as the rest took their departure with Capt. Mix. The rest have come in from time to time, slipping in unobserved by the military. Their number has accumulated to about a hundred hard working, sober men. When the troops appeared, rising, as it were like a phantom ... the cliffs to blast their hopes, the ... as one expressed it, arose: 'The ... up now, but nothing but death ... keep me from these dig... ve been at work, this ... and preparing sluice ... from the gulch. ... ticneed and ... tories are ... straightforward and manly. Every one of them has more or less gold dust to show, and it has been found in 'that gulch.'"

Col. Dodge had no orders to arrest these men, and, no doubt, as the correspondent suggests, felt very thankful that he had not. Officers, curious to witness the actual work of panning out gold were gratified by having the miners pan out some in their presence, and some of them tried their own hands at it. Captain Spaulding "took up some dirt thrown out of a hole that was being sunk for 'prospecting,' washed out four pans, and weighed the result. The result was 27½ cents in gold. In another case, which is equally unquestionable, 37 cents were taken from one panful. Practical miners say that from $15 to $100 can be made with proper sluicing. I question, says the writer, whether this may not be an extravagant statement; still there is no doubt about facts already told. There is gold here. Col. Dodge can vouch for this, and the other officers can do the same. Mr. Jenney has seen the gold, and all can testify to that fact, not to mention the entire command of soldiers and teamsters.

"The nature of Mr. Jenney's report cannot be foretold. He is cautious about committing himself to a positive statement except as to the presence of gold. He cannot tell how much may be expected even approximately. The extent of area which will indicate the presence of gold cannot be estimated, as any one can readily see. It will have to be carefully examined and explored. The soldiers and teamsters take quite naturally to the work of 'panning gold,' and why they should not it is hard to say."

RALLY FOR THE YAQUINA BAY RAILWAY.

A note from B. W. Wilson, Esq., of Corvallis, informs us there is to be a grand mass meeting of the citizens of Benton county at Corvallis, Saturday next,—July 17th—at 1 o'clock P. M., in relation to the Yaquina Bay Railroad. The meeting should be well attended, and the enterprise should receive every encouragement. It is entirely feasible, and its benefits to the people of Benton county would be incalculable. With that road finished, Corvallis would occupy a most excellent position commercially, and her permanent prosperity would be secured.

Rowing matches between the students of different colleges, have become a regular annual occurrence. The next thing after the commencements, which come along in June, are the contests of muscle and skill. It is a very old custom in England. For more than a generation English collegians have cultivated the art of rowing as a specialty. But in America the custom is of recent date, reaching back in the cases of Yale and Harvard for say fifteen years, most of the colleges only a half dozen of years at most. Last year there were only nine colleges represented in the regatta. This year there were fourteen entered, though Trinity College afterwards withdrew, leaving thirteen to participate in the race.

Baltimore has one also. His name is Warfield T. Browning, and his peculations are not so great in amount as those that have taken place in New York and its neighboring city of churches and scandals; but he stole enough to get himself expelled from the council of the city, of which body he was a member until the 1st of July. His stealing was of the mean, petit larceny sort, such as working small matters through the council for small pay, getting terrapin suppers and taking hack rides, and have the bills therefore charged to the city, and the like.

The telegraph bill of the Chicago Times averages over $8,000 per month.

A CENTER SHOT.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press, one of the ablest and fairest of the Western Independent journals, fires this broadside into the ranks of the rag-money Democracy of Ohio:

"The rights of the States are not in jeopardy, and the liberties of the American people are not in the slightest danger; but the national honor and credit, and the foundations of the national prosperity, are in mortal jeopardy from such ruinous financial quackery as that proclaimed by the Democracy of the chief State of the Mississippi valley as a panacea for all the commercial ills of the country. The currency issue is in fact the most vital and momentous issue of the time. It is the question on the determination of which hangs the weal or woe of the nation for a decade, perhaps for two or three decades to come. It cannot be ignored. It cannot be belittled. Mere high-sounding declarations about liberty and rights will go for nothing against this open proclamation of a party of dishonesty, bad faith and charlatanism. It was the imbecile and demagogic paltering of some of the republican leaders with the great interests of public faith and public welfare involved in this question that has been one of the chief charges against the republican party. But it looks now as if the demons of inflation and repudiation had been cast out of the republican party and had entered into the Ohio hog-o-cracy, and that the herd of diabolized swine are running violently down a steep place into the lake, where they are going, to be choked; and thus the scriptures will be fulfilled.

The Record learns that negotiations are now pending for the purchase of the valuable water power below the woolen mills at Salem, and the building of extensive flouring mills on the river, to be run in connection therewith. The property is valued at $10,000.

A report reached us this morning, says the Albany Register, that Abe Irvine, of Lebanon, who has been up in the mountains some days, has been shot. Whether the shot was accidental or otherwise, or whether the wound was serious, was not learned.

B.—The Manufacturers of the Averill Chemical Paint—patents dated March 25, 1858, July 16, 1867, Dec. 23, 1873—control the right to manufacture and sell mixed paints on the Pacific Coast, and hereby caution dealers and consumers that certain worthless imitations bearing the name of "mixed," "liquid" and "rubber" paints have already appeared in the market, but all such are infringements of the Averill Patent, and dealers in them are liable to prosecution for violation of the U. S. Patent Laws.

None are genuine save those marked "Averill Chemical Paint," and bearing our Trade Mark—a fac-simile of which will be found on each package, sample card and price list.

THE CAMPAIGN OPENED
The Headquarters of both political parties have again by common consent been established at ISAAC BLUM'S Store, which he has elegantly refitted to meet the requirements of the occasion. This place has become the recognized resort of connoisseurs, who pride themselves on the fact that they smoke Blum's Cigars and pay for them.
This card is published for the information of strangers. It is therefore well for visitors from various parts of the State and abroad, as well as San Francisco druminers and such like, to bear this in mind and act accordingly.
Parties dealing Imported Havanas or Key West Cigars by the box will please call before the present invoice is disposed of.
An unusually fine lot of special Domestic Brands on hand.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JULY 14, 1875.

CITY.

ARMED WITH A DANGEROUS WEAPON.—A Mexican named Edward Calasar was arrested Saturday afternoon, charged with assaulting a man named Peters with a dangerous weapon, to wit, a hatchet and knife. Calasar, it appears, boards at a house which stands near the Home saloon, below Weidler's saw-mill. Yesterday noon, Calasar came to his dinner as usual, and as it was not ready, he laid down on the porch to rest for a few minutes. Peters and another man also boarded at the same place. While the Mexican was lying down taking pleasant dreams, Peters and his companion, one Wm. Taylor, with each other. This soon led to a friendly wrestling match between the men. Calasar appeared to be much annoyed by the scuffling, and, although it seemed to him in no wise whatever, he got up and ordered Peters and his comrade to desist. Having no attention was paid to his demand, the Mexican became very angry, and, seizing a small hatchet struck Peters a heavy blow with the back of the same. It struck him on the left hip, and the keen edge inflicted quite a severe gash. Not satisfied with his work, Calasar drew a knife and advanced toward Peters, who ran for his life. He was hotly pursued by the infuriated "greaser," who came near overtaking him several rents in Peters' coat. Parties interfered, and the row was ended. Complaint was made at the office of Justice Kelly, a warrant issued, and Calasar taken into custody by Constable Norris. An examination was held yesterday, and the defendant held to await the action of the grand jury on the charge mentioned. In default of the required bonds, the Mexican was committed to the county jail. He does not attempt justification of his offense further than to state that the two men scuffling annoyed him; that he got very angry, and at length drew the knife in the manner mentioned. Hitherto Calasar has borne a good character.

WALLOWA VALLEY—MILITARY ORDER.—General Howard has just issued the following order. Official information having been received of the re-opening of Wallowa Valley, Oregon (heretofore set apart as a reservation for Joseph's band of the non-treaty Nez Perce Indians), for settlement by whites, at the request of Indian Agent John B. Monteith, the Nez Perce Indians, the commanding officer of Fort Walla Walla, will immediately withdraw two companies of the First Cavalry, under command of Captain Stephen G. Whipple, First Cavalry, for field service. Immediately after these companies have been paid by Paymaster Canby (about the 20th inst.) Captain Whipple will march his command into Wallowa Valley, Oregon, and establish a camp for the general protection of the citizens and Indians in that vicinity, and for the preservation of the peace. Captain Whipple will remain in Wallowa valley until further orders from department headquarters, and will submit his reports through his post commander. His command will be supplied with the necessary camp equipment, with thirty days' rations, and a proper amount of ammunition. The quartermaster's department will furnish the necessary transportation for the movement and the transportation at Fort Walla Walla."

OUT OUR WAY.—Fishing parties have been numerous of late, and those who have tried the delightful sport came out with a poor return for their time spent. The latest heard from is a party of gentlemen who are to be seen in the Archood of Monnistes' block almost daily. One is well known in musical circles, while the other is a great sportsman, and delights in relating his experiences. He is a Canadian, having within the past year built a pump on First street, to which the city take frequent visits. These worthy gentlemen tried a day's fishing on Monday, but Old Sol was, and the result of their efforts was the capture of a solitary scion of the limpid stream. They returned disheartened with the trip, which they considered them for the time occupied. Better luck next time.

BRAKEMAN ESCAPED DEATH.—The evening Oregonian says that while the northern bound train was passing between Junction and Oakland, yesterday, a brakeman named Baker came near being killed. The train was passing a stream which is bridged with a trestle work, when a piece of timber (evidently by the carpenters who have been repairing it) fell down, striking the brakeman on the left arm and side. For an instant he was stunned by the blow, and had it not been for a person standing near by reaching out and catching the brakeman at the proper moment, he would have been knocked off the car to the bottom of the stream below and instantly killed.

COURT-MARTIAL.—A general court-martial will convene at Fort Lapwai, I. T., on Thursday, July 15, 1875, at 10 o'clock, A. M., or as soon thereafter as practicable, for the trial of such persons as may be properly brought before it. The following will constitute the court: Major E. P. Canby, pay department; Captain Levi M. Smith, 21st infantry; First Lieutenant Albert G. Forse, 1st cavalry; First Lieutenant Henry N. Moss, 1st cavalry; First Lieutenant Edward R. Theller, 21st infantry; 2d Lieutenant Procter K. Ward, 1st cavalry; Lieutenant Edwin M. Shelton; 1st cavalry; Lieutenant Robert H. Fletcher, 21st infantry, judge advocate of the court.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.—Contrary to their expectation when they first arrived here, the local dignitaries concluded to pay a flying visit to the Dalles and beyond, before going down to the Sound. Accordingly, yesterday morning, accompanied by Captain J. C. Ainsworth, R. R. Thompson, S. G. Reed and others, they embarked on the steamer Oneonta and started up the "lordly Columbia." The train will take the cars at the Dalles and go to Celilo. Returning to the Dalles, they will start down this morning and reach here in the evening.

FOREST FIRES.—Woods on Fire.—Yesterday morning the woods three miles beyond Oregon City caught fire, and soon the flames were rapidly through the timber. The fire burning near the railroad, and consequently a number of the poles were burned before it was prostrated. A party of repairers were sent out at once, and in a short time the fire was under and in working order. At last accounts the fire was raging through the woods, but the repairing party managed to keep it down so that dispatches could be sent through.

ARRESTED.—Victims.—Says the San Francisco Post of the 9th: "Charles Carroll, O. F. Briggs and O. S. Briggs were charged before Police Judge Coon yesterday with misdemeanor in carrying on the swindling game known as the 'Green Goods' business, and appearing from the evidence that they were visitors to the establishment." It will be remembered, was in Portland within a few weeks ago. He was the editor at one time of the Adelphi Theater, a questionable place of amusement.

WRECK.—The boat is now lying at the boneyard, undergoing repairs. Last week the Rescue broke the shaft of her wheel, and before she could render service again, it was necessary to substitute a new one. A shaft was made at the Dalles machine shop, and sent down several days ago, which will take the place of the fractured one. Some time will be required to put the boat in running order, as it will be necessary to take the boilers out before the new shaft can be put in position.

RUNAWAY.—Monday evening, about 7:30 o'clock, a butcher wagon, driven by a half-intoxicated German, came tearing around a curve on the old county road. One of the wheels struck the bank, when the wagon was turned up into the air and capsized in a trice. The half-intoxicated driver was thrown violently out, but escaped with comparatively slight injuries. Damage to the vehicle estimated at 25 cents, more or less.

SIGNAL SERVICE REPORT.—From the records of the Signal Station of Observation, Portland, for July 13, 1875:

BOARD OF TRADE.—This evening a regular meeting of the board of trade will be held at the rooms—Ankeny's building—at 7:30 o'clock sharp. A full attendance desired.

MOONLIGHT RIDE ON THE WALLAMET.—The proposed excursion to Oregon City on Thursday promises to be quite a popular affair, and a large number of persons have made up their minds that they can spend a very pleasant evening on Thursday, on board the Willamette Chief, which has been chartered for the occasion. The price is certainly low enough, being only 50 cents for the round trip.

THE TEASER.—Repairs are now being made to some of the machinery belonging to the little propeller Teaser, which was brought down over the Cascades a few weeks ago. She is at present lying at the boneyard. In a short time the Teaser will be taken over on the Sound to ply between ports, and it is the intention of her owner to place the boat in the best possible condition for service.

BRIEF NOTES.

Board of Trade this evening.

No cases of sun stroke reported yet.

Portland is again without amusements.

Summer fruits will soon be in the market.

No new arrivals of vessels for a few days past.

Too warm for croquet playing—base ball ditto.

The piles are all driven for McCraken's new wharf.

The salmon season will be over in a few weeks.

The high water for the present season is about over.

Supreme court will convene at Salem on the 19th instant.

Republican State central committee will convene to-day.

Strawberry season is waning. Raspberries are quite numerous.

Lots of wool and hides are coming down from Eastern Oregon.

Away to the cool mountains and down by the "sad sea" is the motto.

Now that the river is falling the unwelcome advent of ague may be expected.

A new sidewalk is being laid on both sides of First street, between Alder and Washington.

"Champion" is the name of the W. R. T. Co.'s new boat. The trial trip will be made in a few days.

The members of the Independent State Central Committee will meet in this city on Friday at 1 P. M.

A valuable horse was very sick last evening at Acker's stable, and it was thought the animal would not live until morning.

Mow Own and a Chinawoman were each fined yesterday in Police Court $10 for conducting themselves in a disorderly manner by fighting.

The Seattle Tribune says: "It is reported that there are between 25 and 30 cases of smallpox in Victoria, and there are not so many little excursions to that place as formerly."

The two wise (?) astronomical reporters of the morning and evening papers are unable to distinguish the difference between a meteor and a sky-rocket. Take more water in your beverage, gentlemen: it will improve your mental vision, and render the nerves a little more steady.

A cotemporary declares that the tower of the fire alarm bell is unsafe. Not having made a study of architecture we really feel incompetent to judge of the stability of the structure. How exceedingly unfortunate that the common council did not ask the opinion of the author of the paragraph mentioned before the tower was built.

This is the way they slander us on the outside: "A man in Portland, Oregon, thought he recognized an old friend, and proceeded to slap him heartily on the back and exclaim, 'Hello, old fellow! where in h—l did you come from?' before he found out that it wasn't his friend, but the Rev. E. Payson Hammond, the revivalist.

BODY RECOVERED.

A few days ago two men, while rowing past the upper end of Ross' island, discovered the body of an unknown man lying on the beach. From the decayed condition of the body, it has evidently been in the water ten or twelve days. Without inspecting the remains, the men came to the city and notified Coroner Wetmore of the fact. Yesterday morning the coroner left the city and proceeded to the spot where the body was lying. A jury was summoned and an inquest held. The jury found that he was five feet nine inches in height, light complexion, with brown hair cut short, and was about 25 years of age. He had marks of India ink on the left hand, between the thumb and wrist, supposed to represent a tompoint star; also two rings, marked with India ink around the left wrist, and similar marks on the right hand and wrist. There were no marks of violence discovered on the body, and the jury believed that he came to his death by drowning, but were not able to learn his name. The following persons acted as jurors: John Kiernan (foreman), Thos. F. Stephens, James Bennett, E. Bennett, Elihu Jones, H. S. Stephenson.

The body was entirely nude, and there were no means of determining by letters or papers found on his person who the unfortunate man was. No one was found who could identify the remains. However, there is every reason to believe the remains were those of the ferryman who run the boat between the White House and Milwaukie, and who, it will be remembered, was drowned about two weeks ago, while endeavoring to swim out to a skiff which had drifted loose. The man who was drowned was a Norwegian by birth, and we were not able at the time to obtain his name. As there were no relatives or friends to recognize and claim the body, the coroner caused it to be buried decently on the island, near the point where it was found floating.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.

H. B. Hastings, guardian to H. F. Carroll, lot 4, block 47, Couch's Addition—$25.

J. William and Emily Carroll to J. H. B. Royal, a piece of land containing 58 acres, situated in sec. 25, T. 1 N., R. 1 W.—$1.

Caroline Beck to William Wascher, lots 6 and 7, block 215, Couch's Addition—$800.

POLICE COURT NOTES.

Patrick Daley, for drunkenness, was committed to jail for five days.

Annie Burkhardt, for using abusing and obscene language, was fined $5; paid.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

The steam tug Varuna is again on the route between Astoria, Cape Disappointment and Unity. Fares have been reduced and better time is made than heretofore. Capt. Gray offers special inducements to pleasure seekers. See his advertisement.

Your appetite appeased at a moderate charge. Go to Fabre & Barne's.

ORO FINO THEATER.—The San Francisco minstrels will give one of their pleasing entertainments at Oro Fino Theater, this evening July 13th. Admission to all parts of the house, 50 cents; children, 25 cents. Front seats reserved for ladies.

You may not like rattlesnakes, but you cannot fail to admire the the one now on exhibition at the Museum. He is secured in a good box, and to be seen through a large magnifying glass.

Genuine imported Vichy water and the delicious creme Polar soda water can only be had at Pfunder's German pharmacy, New Theatre block.

CHROMOS FOR ALL.—An extensive stock of chromos has been opened in the store adjoining the postoffice by Mr. E. W. Ryan. These chromos were selected personally during a recent visit in the east, and will be offered at low prices. Call and examine.

Why will you continue to pay big prices for Clothing while those well known dealers in that desirable article, BECK & WALDMAN, are offering such bargains. The dull times necessitates a great reduction and they propose to keep the public supplied at any sacrifice. Each steamer brings them new goods, and they sell from the entire stock at the reduced rates. Call while the opportunity to buy low is offered. Youths' clothing a specialty.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Ladies who wish to have their own hair braided, made into switches, or worked up into any kind of ornamental work for use or preservation, will do well to call on or send to Mrs. CLARSON, Morrison street, between Second and Third. She does all such work very neatly and upon reasonable terms. je21dlm

TUESDAY'S MEETINGS.

At 2 o'clock yesterday morning business men of the city—merchants, lawyers and doctors among them—with mothers, wives, sisters and daughters, gathered at the Presbyterian church for praise, prayer and religious conference. It was a meeting of great spiritual profit. Prominent citizens related their Christian experiences in such clear and forcible language that all felt that there was reality in the religion of Christ.

In the afternoon, at 2 o'clock, a very interesting meeting was held at the Taylor street M. E. church, for the consideration of the claims of the higher Christian life. The special subject presented was, "The victory which overcometh the world, even our faith." The prayers, the sacred songs, the experiences related, all tended to elevate the thoughts and affections of all present to the interests of a higher and nobler life than this.

On the street, at 7 o'clock, a public meeting was held, at which such men as Capt. Wilkinson, Ingersall, Northrup and others, stood by as helpers of various pastors, all of whom sought only by exhortation and sound doctrine to do their fellow-beings good. The efforts of such men will be appreciated by all who realize their need of an Almighty Saviour.

At night the meeting at the same church was more largely attended than on Monday night. Dr. Lindsley opened with prayer, and Mr. Euton followed with instructive and forcible remarks on Luke xvii., 14. "And it came to pass, that as they went they were cleansed." The main object of the speaker was to convince all in sin of the necessity and importance of taking the first step immediately, if they would be saved from sin. Mr. Pierce followed with a warm exhortation, showing the unreasonableness of longer delay. Dr. Lindsley then clinched the truths already presented, by particularizing the points of comparison between the leprosy and sin, urging all to expect an immediate cleansing.

The inquiry meeting closed the interesting services of the day. Surely Portland was never more highly favored than now with the bright light of Christian truth.

A Revengeful Organ.

The stomach is a revengeful organ. If we assign it indigestible food, it not only refuses to perform its office, but inflicts upon us unspeakable tortures, such as those of indigestion, colic, cholera morbus, &c. Not content with giving us pain, it frequently inaugurates an excessive and wasting diarrhœa, called dysentery, which carries us to our graves. With a view to prevent these consequences as soon as the stomach gives notice by preponderatory twinges that its cargo is not to its liking, a wineglassful or two of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters should be swallowed. This admirable digestive cordial will promptly reconcile the refractory organ to its contents, and prevent any of those annoying and possibly fatal results which the presence of indigestible food in the stomach is liable to produce. The Bitters are also a superb tonic, restorative and appetizer.

How many have regretted that they did not take it in time. How easily those lives might have been spared for future usefulness, for which TARR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, a remedy of half a century's standing, cures coughs, colds, whooping-cough, and bronchitis.

A GOOD OLD-FASHIONED CELEBRATION.

LONG TOM CARRIES THE BANNER—THE GRANGERS BUILD A NEW WAREHOUSE AND STORE.

PORTLAND, July 13, 1875.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

As the time for reports of the celebration of the glorious Fourth is almost past, and we have seen none from the "good time" had at Willamette Grange No. 52, we venture the assertion that "52" is the banner grange in the State, and that in getting up a barbecue, picnic or 4th of July celebration the members of Giant grange (on Long Tom) can beat the world.

Being in the vicinity, and having a pressing invitation, we had the good fortune to attend the opening ceremonies which were conducted by Chief Marshal Holder, in due and ancient form. Past Master Harris president of the day; reading of the Declaration of Independence by Miss Emily Thayer; declaration of principles of the Patrons of Husbandry by Miss ——, music by the choir, with an oration by E. L. Applegate, composed the intellectual entertainment of the occasion.

The orator was in one of his happiest moods, and those who have heard "Elisha" sock with Socrates rip with Euripidese, and "dam with Damocleze when he gets on his oratoric I "high heeled hoofs," on such occasions, are prepared to appreciate the fun, cheers, huzzas, and general satisfaction expressed by the crowd. The dinner—but why try to add by words anything to the excellence of the pies, cakes and chickens; barbecued beef, pork and mutton, spread out co-surfeiting on this occasion. It simply "can't be did;" for everything was in "apple pie order," and more than twelve basketsful were "gathered up after the multitude had been fed."

But celebrations, barbacues, picnics and the like, are not the only thing the Grangers in Benton county are engaged in. A new warehouse is being erected about five miles south of Corvallis, on a high bank and deep water on the Willamette river, on the farm of Green B. Smith, Esq., who has donated to the Grange Co. six acres of ground for the purpose, with a free road and all the conveniences necessary for storing and shipping wheat. This warehouse is being erected by a company of Grangers; will be supplied with cleaners and elevators of the latest improved style, will have a capacity of sixty thousand bushels, and none but members of the order are allowed to own or take stock in the Company. The Company will also erect a store on the same grounds, where they can have their agricultural machinery, groceries and staple dry goods landed after purchasing from first hands.

ONE WHO HAS BEEN THERE.

PERSONAL.

Judge McArthur is in this city, on his way to the supreme court, which will convene next Monday.

The Sea-Side House,
CLATSOP BEACH.
MR. C. H. DEXTER
ANNOUNCES TO HIS FORMER PATRONS, and to the Public in general, that he is now well prepared for the Summer Campaign. Everything improved in the way of roads, drives and general appearances. Our Boats for the Creek in splendid condition. Swings nine. Single Boards up. Croquet Grounds mowed, rolled and leveled. New Croquet Sets. New Arbors for children. Bathing houses refitted. The road to the Beach in splendid order; and, in fact, everything appertaining to a First-class Summer Watering Place may be here found. The Cuisine is under the charge of Monsieur Caton Crevelin, the well-known French cook, and his name is a guarantee of my table. We have this year one of the largest chicken ranches in Oregon, plenty of cows, and the adjuncts of those will not be wanting. ## A TEST OF LOVE.

HOW MRS. CLARK WENT TO WORK TO TRY HER HUSBAND'S AFFECTION, AND THE RESULT.

Mrs. Clark had been reading the Beecher-Tilton scandal until her faith in man had dwindled down to a very fine point, and she had a poor opinion of them.

She had noticed that her hitherto loving spouse had for the past two weeks been low-spirited and down-hearted.

She thought that perhaps he, too, had been led from the paths of virtue by the deluding voice of some bewitching siren, and that his love for her was growing cold. But now to find out if such was the case. Josephus did not show any signs of producing a statement, or of confessing his guilt to a mutual friend.

Her brow corrugated, and her hands clenched as she brooded over her imaginary wrongs, and she determined to put the fidelity of her husband to the test.

But how to do it, that was the question.

"If I have it," said she triumphantly, "I'll drown myself, that is figuratively."

Clark was a farmer, in good circumstances, and, being several years younger than his wife, and good looking, it kept her in a state of perpetual worriment and jealousy. Mrs. Clark proceeded to put her plan into execution.

Just behind the house was a very deep well that had not been used for some time, and it was covered over now with boards to prevent the cattle from falling into it.

She removed the covering from the well, and placing her bonnet and shawl upon its brink, she crawled in under a large gooseberry bush to await developments.

The weather was cold, and she was nearly frozen before she saw her husband and hired man coming from the barn where they had been working.

Clark passed by the well without noticing the clothing; but the hired man saw them and gave a cry of horror.

"Mercy on us, Mr. Clark! Your wife has thrown herself in the well!" he shouted frantically.

Mrs. Clark expected that her husband would tear his hair and rush to the edge of the well, and, after calling her all the endearing names he could think of, descend into the watery depth, in eager search of her cold damp corpse.

But Mr. Clark did not do anything of the kind. He calmly took a fresh chew of tobacco, and then approaching the well, looked quietly into it.

"I guess the old girl has suicided," said he, without any emotion worth speaking of. "Jake, you sling them boards back again; I wouldn't have that brindle heifer get in there for fifty dollars; and after dinner we'll hoist the old woman out."

"Hadn't I better get some of the neighbors here first?" asked the frightened man.

"After dinner will do, Jake. 'Business before pleasure,' is my motto, and I'm awful hungry."

Jake covered up the well, and the men went into the house, leaving the old lady howling with rage.

"I did girl him! I'll suicided him! Take more pains over that pesky heifer than he does with me. I'll—I'll—"

Words failed her; they were inadequate to express her feelings.

After dinner Clark sent the hired man after some of the neighbors, and while he was awaiting his return he seated himself upon a log in plain sight of his loving wife, and whistled "Old Hundred" all through without missing a stave.

The neighbors arrived, and were full of sympathy for the bereaved husband, and Josephus bore his honors meekly.

Various plans were canvassed for raising the body, but owing to the great depth of the well, they could not decide upon the right one.

"I'll tell you the best way, friends," said Clark pathetically. "She is gone, and will never come to this world of woe and trouble; so I think we had better let the body remain where it is, and fill up the well. It will save a power of trouble and bother."

This proposition was agreed to by the neighbors as being feasible, and the work of filling up commenced. Josephus throwing in all the large stones and blocks of wood that he could lay his hands on.

"There," said he, "I guess that will do," after they had thrown a couple of cart loads of miscellaneous rubbish into the well. "Jake can fill up the rest, odd spells and rainy days. We'll have the funeral sermon preached as soon as I get done hauling wood.

Near by the side of Josephus stood a woman of about thirty summers or winters, and she had been regarding the solemn scene with a mixture of pleasure and sorrow, intermingled; and when the rest of the neighbors took their departure, she lingered behind to comfort the aching heart of the bereaved widower.

"It is a great pity to be suddenly cut down in the prime of life, like the flower at noontide," said she, mournfully.

"Yes," said he, shifting his quid from one side of his mouth to the other; "but Betty was getting along in years, and we must be resigned."

"Just so, Mr. Clark; resignation is a cooling balm, as it were, to fill the void in the troubled breast, and I always thought your wife was too old for such a smart, active man as you."

"Did you really?" answered Clark, with sudden interest.

"To be sure, I did; I always took an interest in your welfare."

Clark was lost in meditation for some time.

"Miss Perkins," said he, suddenly, "can you make good butter?"

"Now, Mr. Clark," she answered, blushing, "you touch me on a tender point; for, if I do say it myself, I won't turn my back to any woman in the country making good butter."

"Good cook?"

"First-rate."

"Understand housekeeping?"

"None better."

"Then, I'll tell you what I have been thinking about," said he, picking up another large stone and throwing it into the well. Suppose you and I get married?"

"Now, really, Mr. Clark, you are so sudden and take me by surprise; but my heart bleeds for you in your bereavement, and—and I consent. Take me—I am yours."

The fond couple embraced, taking a kiss to ratify the bargain.

Mrs. Clark, under the gooseberry bush, was boiling with rage, but she restrained herself for a few moments.

"I say," said Clark, after they had regained their composure, "won't Betty's clothes fit you?"

"Of course they will, and it will be a great saving."

"And I will take that new cloak of hers and make me an overcoat—a long one like the city folks wear," said Clark.

"O! you dear creature!" replied she.

"Sweet angel of my soul!" said he.

Just then, something hit upon Clark's back, and he did not know at first whether it was a wild-cat, a streak of lightning, or the devil, but he found out directly.

His charmer cast one glance at the apparition, and scooted.

Clark has just got around again. He says it was the most case of inflammatory sickness he ever had.

But he is the meekest husband to be found, and the well is filled up.

Thousands of loyal hearts which have been overflowing with devout thankfulness during the past few days will say a hearty Amen to this sentiment in the Philadelphia Times: "The beauty, purpose, and glories of these centennial celebrations, in which there is no North, no South, no East, no West, are dawning upon the nation. The sun which rose so brightly Thursday on Bunker Hill will reach its noonday splendor in 1876. Instead of a few scattered regiments from half a dozen States, the armies of the Union will then march through our streets, and the hosts of the dead who, whether a hundred or ten years ago, gave the last full measure of devotion for the cause they held holy, will be with them in the spirit—the spirit of Union and liberty forever."

Wm. Irwin, Democratic candidate for governor of California, used to be a lumberman in this State.

In business circles there is no marked improvement over the condition of affairs noted heretofore since the warm weather set in. The monetary situation is one of rather more ease than usual for the period in the season, and promises to present no hindrance to an active condition of trade when the harvest is over and the business of the fall is once fairly set in. Banks and other lending institutions are in liberal supply of funds offering for investment, and deposits are also reported up to the average, so that the aggregate capital likely to be on hand to conduct the trade incident to moving the crop of this year will be quite ample, and though there are men in trading circles, as well as other departments of life, who always see tokens of hard times and predict future stringency of the money market and a dull trade, we hear less of this croaking this year than usual. The increase in the population of our State by immigration, though not so rapid as we might wish, is larger than for any past season for several years, and this fact is having some effect on business affairs, increasing the volume of transactions to an extent that is quite perceptible.

In San Francisco the mint is again actively at work with well-sustained supplies of bullion, and treasure shipments having materially decreased, leave the monetary institutions in that city in a condition to meet all demands, whether for harvesting or moving the crops, aiding enterprise, or supplying the legitimate requirements of trade and commerce.

Gold still commands a high premium at the East, but as the causes which tended to produce that effect have been somewhat toned down, and foreign demand has not increased while supplies have, it is reasonable to presume that the premium which already shows some decline will continue to move in the same direction.

On the 25th of June Mr. Bristow issued a call for five millions of five-twenty bonds, to be redeemed on the 4th of September. Besides this, five millions will mature on the 20th of July, five millions more on the 1st of August, ten millions on the 11th of August, making a total of twenty-five millions after June 25th, and sixty millions for the year, five millions having matured June 1st, and thirty millions June 11th.

The Tonnage Question.

This question might be considered as presenting another unfavorable aspect for Oregon were it not for the very large supply of vessels now in the port of San Francisco waiting for business, and the still larger number which are on the way thither seeking. When they are once there they can readily be secured for the Oregon trade at current rates. Freedhander, the great grain dealer of San Francisco, says in his circular that California will have abundant tonnage after all that Oregon requires to carry her surplus is taken, at rates that will leave shippers a better show for profits than was possible under the high freights which prevailed last year. The same authority gives a list of vessels, embracing 211,144 tons now on the way to San Francisco, and says, with what disengaged tonnage there is now in that port, there will be sufficient to carry away the surplus wheat of California and for all the outside business that may arise. He also gives a list of grain vessels on the way to Portland, as follows: Stratheden, 400 tons (since arrived); Warrior, 490; Santon, 510; Blanche, 499; Ole Bull, 550; Preston Vale, 427; Superb, 860; Marco Polo, 440; Moonbeam 692; Northern Crown, 673; Erasmus, 560; Pedraza, 680; Carl Pihl, 750; Wm. Pootman, 1,248; F. Danvers, 798; Franklin, 1,121; Rotanilwood, 912; Trochraigue, 677; Cambria, 641; Ophir, 410; Golden Age, 1,096. The total registered tonnage of the vessels is 12,546 tons, and they will carry 20,000 short tons. In addition, there are now on the way to Victoria, from London and Liverpool, eight vessels, with a registered tonnage of 3,656 tons, and a carrying capacity of 8,000 tons. These eight vessels will probably arrive before December, and some or all of them will probably be seeking return charters. They are bringing, principally, iron for the Canadian Pacific railway, and others will probably follow in the same business. So that, looking to the sources from which our tonnage supply is to come, we may reasonably expect it to be ample for the business of this harvest year, but it will be fortunate if the low rates which are likely to prevail in 1875-76 do not deter vessels from the trade afterwards.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—There are no further developments in this cereal, and but few sales have been in the market for a fortnight past. Exporters who do not seem inclined to speculate have no present wants to urge them on the market, and millers generally secure what is offered at the ranges given in our last before. The Liverpool quotations for the 9th inst. were 9s 2½d@9s 5d for average California, and 9s 1d@9s 9d for club.

FLOUR—The market is firm at our former quotations of $5@5 25 ⅌ bbl for standard extras, $4 50@4 75 for outside and good country brands, and $4 for superfine.

OATS—The receipts at present are light, and but little more than supply the local trade. Quotations to-day are $35@37 ⅌ bushel.

BARLEY—We hear of no transactions to establish prices, and we quote nominally at $1 25 ⅌ cwt. for common, and $1 50@1 60 for choice.

MILL FEED—There is still a tendency to a reduced demand. We quote bran at $15@16 50 ⅌ ton; shorts, $22@23; chops, middlings, etc., $27 50@30; oil cake meal, $32, with little in market.

HAY—A full supply in the market, quotable at $10@11 ⅌ ton for fair to best timothy, loose, and $11 @12 baled.

POTATOES—The market is in fair supply at 75c@ $1 ⅌ bushel for new, and 25c ⅌ lb for old.

ONIONS—There are but few lots in the market, quotable at 2c ⅌ lb, nominally.

APPLES (DRIED)—There is a fair demand for fair lots, either in sacks or kegs, the latter preferred, at 7c ⅌ lb. Exports are increasing.

BACON—Sides are held at our former quotations of 11@12c ⅌ lb, and are in full supply; shoulders are unchanged from 8@9c, while the market is overstocked with hams, and quotations for common lots are 10@12c ⅌ lb, though they must be a little extra to command the latter figure.

LARD—Good Oregon made is worth 16c ⅌ lb in kegs or tins, and is in brisk demand.

BUTTER—We quote fair to choice roll at 22c@25 ⅌ lb, extra print for table use, 30@35c; common solid, 18@20c.

EGGS—The receipts have hardly been sufficient to supply the trade, and jobbers are selling to-day at 25c ⅌ doz.

CHICKENS—There is a fair supply, but quotations for choice lots have advanced to $4 per doz. Common and spring are quotable at $2 75 to $3 50, according to size and quality.

BEEF CATTLE—Live cattle in fair condition are quotable at 2½@3c ⅌ lb on foot, or dressed at 5@6c.

HIDES AND FURS—Prices for hides are still down, on account of the many damaged lots reaching the market. Undamaged are quoted at 15c ⅌ lb for dry; beef hides 10 for green; calfs, 8@10c; elk, 18@20c ⅌ lb; deer, 18@33c ⅌ lb, dried, and 50c@ 75c a piece, green; mink skins each, $1@1 50; otter, $1@3; beaver, 75c@$1.

WOOL—With combined fall receipts, both from east of the mountains and the Wallamet valley, quotations are steady at 20@22c for the former, and 22@24c ⅌ lb for the latter, of fair quality and condition.

San Francisco Markets.

RUBBER PAINT.

Best Paint in the World.

Flows from the Brush freely. Works easily, and will not Wash, Crack or Peel off, and Dries with a Fine Gloss.

"Rubber Paint"

Will Cover more Surface; Cover it Better and Last Longer than Lead and Oil, and is Guaranteed to be Superior to any CHEMICAL PAINT of any kind whatsoever.

The Solicitors and Agents of other Paints have represented that our Patents are worthless, and that dealers would lay themselves liable to prosecution and damages. These reports are simply an UNSCRUPULOUS ADVERTISING DODGE.

In reply, we guarantee all who handle our Goods, to the fullest extent against any trouble or interference. We also guarantee our Paint to be

TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. CHEAPER

In covering than the Averill Chemical Paint; and further guarantee that it will

LAST TWICE AS LONG,

Without Chalking, Cracking or Peeling off, of which we have abundant proof. By calling at our Office, we will refer to buildings painted with Averill Chemical Paint within thirty months which are chalking and cracking off—a part of the buildings one color and a part another color, NOTWITHSTANDING THE PROPRIETORS CLAIM IT WILL DO NEITHER.
